

Three Fountains

August Burns Red

When you forget who you are
You don't just lose yourself
You become like everyone else
You become like everyone else

We let our past put us down
We know how to swim but soon we bury our head and drown
A man living in hell
Dying of thirst on his way to the well
What's wrong with the world?
There's so much rage
Two words, "I am," would begin a new age
With the truth on our lips
We see the change
We see the change
Coalesce
Coalesce

Without an end (Coalesce)
There'd be no place to begin (Coalesce)
Without an end (Coalesce)
There'd be no place to begin (Coalesce)

To begin

Without a trial, you are convicted
Pain seems to rain on the afflicted
Here's to the rebels
Here's to the rejects
Here's to the ones who fight gravity
You realize how wrong you are when you're 30,000 feet
In the air, in the air
This world we see is not flat or square
In the air, in the air
You realize how wrong you are when you're 30,000 feet
In the air, in the air
This world we see is not flat or square
In the air, in the air

(In the air, in the air)
(In the air, in the air)
