The Dying And The Dead

Aus-Rotten

Thiry thousand auto workers have gone to work to find That they've been downsized form the assembly to the unemployme nt line The employed seeking job security content with what employers g ive Thinning out the job market keeps the workers competitive The upper one percent receive the tax breaks, social program cu t's commence Educational funds take a back seat to America's defense These education cuts are an investment in the prison industry An occupational restructuring towards a slave labor economy The chance of survival on death row disappears, theirright to ap peal is deprived Worker strength and solidarity depletes with union officials br ibed Raising taxes to build sports stadiums while the homeless are i gnored Refusing to supply the health care benefits most people can't a fford The newly founded citizen review boards' members are all police The gap widens between the cost of living and the inflation inc rease Those in power own the media machine it's the vehicle to their views They bury all of their corruption under fluff reported news They bombard us with statistics to influence public opinion The more ridiculous the lie the more people seem to listen It's the people with no money that are responsible for the rest of us being poor We'll just eliminate the welfare system to even up the score Our conditions never imporve no matter how many programs we sto р The money always seems to circulate back to the people at the t op The occasionl whining criticisms keep the public satisfied The rest are busy escaping reality with drugs the CIA supplied It's always the most oppressed who easily fall victim to ignora nce Even with all that they've been through they still pledge alleg iance To their country and flag that has caused all of their grievous pain Patriotism leads to natonalism which in turn proceeds to fascis m Poor and working class people are the tools of sick corporate p erseverance Shit on little puppets exploited in the trials of human dominan се

But still the pride goes on blindly and in socalled freedom they gloat Waving the flag but cursing the politicians they think they ele ct when they vote Behind the trails of our peacekeepers lie the dying and the dea d There are millions of starving chilren that are waiting to be f ed Because executive orders demand that economic sanctions are app lied If they'd have bowed down to our pressure, relief may have just arrived As the worlds only super power we rule without regret We don't let these children survive and grow up to be a threat Love of this country is based on nothing but the fear of living somewhere worse And gratitude shouldn't be the reaction to someone else being s laughtered first
