

Pray

Avalon

Now is the season for healing
Deeply we need to see God's mercy revealing
Where we have fallen from His way
For we know He gives hope to the humble

Gives light in the darkness
And grace when we stumble
Let us call on His name together
Knowing He will say

If my people pray
Reach for me with hearts that are broken
I will not forget what is spoken
Come and seek my face

Heaven will rain
Rivers of my grace overflowing
Night and day my ears will be open
If my people pray

Now is the day to awaken
To pray with conviction for the souls of the nations
So let us call on His name
Who's faithful, the promise still remains

If my people pray
Reach for me with hearts that are broken
I will not forget what is spoken
Come and seek my face

Heaven will rain
Rivers of my grace overflowing
Night and day my ears will be open
If my people pray

Let us not grow weary as we wait for the day
When the light turns the night into morning
On our knees, calling Your name
As we lift our hearts to Heaven, yeah, knowing You will say

If my people pray
Reach for me with hearts that are broken
I will not forget what is spoken
Come and seek my face

Heaven will rain
Rivers of my grace overflowing
Night and day my ears will be open
If my people pray
