

Die With You

Aviators

A feeling like we know
We've made it far enough
No shame in letting go
Across a nation's bones
Still barely clinging to
Some distant, broken home

Still awake through
'Til the end of line
When the rain falls
And the searchlights shine
It's going to take a miracle to find our way
I will find you
On the precipice
Gonna crawl through
If it comes to this
We were never going to make it anyway
So I think I want to die with you today

No matter where it lies
Together to the end
The light around us dies
We're sick of asking why
We've never had a choice
In the falling of our time

Still awake through
'Til the end of line
When the rain falls
And the searchlights shine
It's going to take a miracle to find our way
I will find you
On the precipice
Gonna crawl through
If it comes to this
We were never going to make it anyway
So I think I want to die with you today

Stranded embers on a long dead street
We strive in silence with naught to eat
The creeping blackness takes our will no more
And we take our exit through an open door

Still awake through
'Til the end of line
When the rain falls
And the searchlights shine
It's going to take a miracle to find our way
I will find you
On the precipice
Gonna crawl through
If it comes to this
We were never going to make it anyway
So I think I want to die with you today
