

Mechanical Instinct

Aviators

One step at a time
I'm going outta my mind
I'm being hunted by something primal
They're just simple machines
Yet tainted souls they seem
For five nights I'll fear for my survival
Are they mechanical?
They hunt like animals
Freezing for seconds while I see their corpses
I'm getting panicked now
I'm locking this place down
I'm feeling watched by unnatural forces

Looks like I'd better run for my life
I'll never be in one piece to see night five
I've got eleven on my tail, with no time to think
Of a way to survive mechanical instinct

(Mechanical instinct)

Just an hour more
I'm closer than before
To making it out of this ghastly madhouse
I'm feeling desperate
I'm starting to regret
Taking my chances with no way out
Who's walking down the hall?
I can't keep track of them all
A music box plays my dying song
This is my one escape
The mask still on my face
But they have known I've been here all along

Looks like I'd better run for my life
I'll never be in one piece to see night five
I've got eleven on my tail, with no time to think
Of a way to survive mechanical instinct

(Mechanical instinct)

Here, all alone in the darkness
Why, can't I escape their soulless eyes?
It's a lost cause now
They've got my scent, and I can't get out
Now, I'm afraid to look because
They, are just the beasts to hunt me down
With no way fight back, the night is already over

Looks like I'd better run for my life
I'll never be in one piece to see night five
I've got eleven on my tail, with no time to think
Of a way to survive mechanical instinct

Looks like I'd better run for my life
I'll never be in one piece to see night five
I've got eleven on my tail, with no time to think
Of a way to survive mechanical instinct
