

Secret Identity

Aviators

Fire rising into my mind
It's just a ghost from the past giving me a hard time
I feel the darker side bracing for an event
It's their fault, they should have known better

Oh, every single time
They fall out of line
They've been removed forcefully
And if they hear my voice
They know I have no choice
But to show my secret identity
The side of me I can't control
The secret side of my soul

They tried to push my limits but they hit a brick wall
They tried to break my world but I will never fall
My secret darker side keeps me out of their reach
I'm immortal
I'm immortal

Oh, every single time
They fall out of line
They've been removed forcefully
And if they hear my voice
They know I have no choice
But to show my secret identity
The side of me I can't control
The secret side of my soul

So what happens when I can't control it
It's a beast, it's my soul, you can't hold it
It's a ghost in the code of my being
And it's coming for you this time

Oh, every single time
They fall out of line
They've been removed forcefully
And if they hear my voice
They know I have no choice
But to show my secret identity
The side of me I can't control
The secret side of my soul
Secret identity I can't control
