

Snowblind

Aviators

Day one gone by
The wind is getting colder every night
The pressure's getting hard to take
I feel the ice about to break
Like a gunshot
And I can't stop
The bullet in my heart

But now I'm on my way
I feel the ice in my heart melt away
I'm here to take back control of my mind
Because I'm running out of time
Snowblind

My vision blurs
I've got to clear my mind
Before a change can occur
The cold is getting hard to shake
This mess is more than I can take
It's a last stand
so take my hand
And here we go

But now I'm on my way
I feel the ice in my heart melt away
I'm here to take back control of my mind
Because I'm running out of time
Snowblind

And when I fall down I'll rise again
Whatever it takes I'll make amends
And who am I
To deny that I'm cold hearted
And here tonight
I've got the time to melt the ice away

But now I'm on my way
I feel the ice in my heart melt away
I'm here to take back control of my mind
Because I'm running out of time
Snowblind

But now I'm on my way
I feel the ice in my heart melt away
I'm here to take back control of my mind
Because I'm running out of time
Snowblind
