

Burn the City Down

Axe

People getting restless
I can see it in their eyes
Hot summer nights
Can really hypnotize
We gotta do something
To feel the blood run in our veins
Turn on the neon lights
But the night remains
We can't hold back
Very much longer
Cause the feeling
Keeps getting stronger
We can hide away
Till the night takes the sun
But what worries me
Is the summer's just begun
Another sleepless night
Destination never found
We gotta do something
Before we burn the city down
I hear the voices calling
From the thirty second floor
I feel the subway rumble
As I run out through the door
I gotta find someone
All the streets are mine to roam
But I just can't face it
Can't spend tonight alone
We can't hold back
Very much longer
Cause the feeling
Keeps getting stronger
We can hide away
Till the night takes the sun
But what worries me
Is the summer's just begun
Another sleepless night
Destination never found
We gotta do something
Before we burn the city down
