

Good Times

Axe

Monday morning, it's 6 a.m
The noise is knockin' me out of my dream
I just wanna stay right here in bed
That I gotta get up just seems obscene

And though I'd rather go back to where I was Back to what I was dreaming of
A simpler world where life was not so hard...

Tell me, where have the good times gone?
Where have the good times gone?
And it seems like it's been so long
Where have the good times gone?
They were here, now they're lost without a trace
And my life is like a goddamn disgrace
It's been so long
Tell me, where have the good times gone?

Where have they gone?

Runaway train on a one-way track
Now how'd this load get on my back?
Another day older, it just ain't right
Down on the ground like I lost the fight

And though I'd rather go back to where I've been
Go back and start it all again
I swear that I'd never let it slip away

Tell me, where have the good times gone?
Where have the good times gone?
And it seems like it's been so long
Where have the good times gone?
They were here, now they're lost without a trace
And my life is like a goddamn disgrace
It's been so long
Tell me, where have the good times gone?

Tell me, where have the good times gone?
Where have the good times gone?
Said it seems like it's been so long
Where have the good times gone?
They were here, now they're lost without a trace
And my life is like a goddamn disgrace
It's been so long
Tell me, where have the good times gone?

Monday morning, it's 6 a.m

Where have the good times gone?
Where have the good times gone?
Said it seems like it's been so long
Where have the good times gone?
They were here, now they're lost without a trace
And the music's like a goddamn disgrace
And it's been so long
Tell me, where have the good songs gone?
Yeah

Where have they gone
Have the good songs gone?
Yeah, yeah, yeah
Where have they gone?

Hey, hey, hey
Where have they gone?
Hey
Where have they gone?
Hey
