

I Pray

Ayo

If you were in my head right now you'd probably be surprised
'Cause when you ask me how I am I look at you and lie
I say "It couldn't be better, everything is fine"
Climbing up that ladder, having a good time

If you were in my head right now you'd probably start to cry
It's all the things I'm dealing with, they'll make you lose your mind
If you were in my head right now
If you were in my head right now

I made every mistake, took all the wrong ways
I faced every burden that I had to face
And now I pray, I pray, I pray, I pray

I made every mistake, took all the wrong ways
I faced every burden that I had to face
And now I pray, I pray, I pray, I pray

I could show you my face, it's all that you perceive
But if you were in my head right now you could feel my grief
I cover up my sorrow just so you won't see
I'm scared of tomorrow, scared of what would be

If you were in my head right now I'm sure you'd run away
'Cause there ain't too many things [?] that'd make you wanna stay
If you were in my head right now
If you were in my head right now

I made every mistake, took all the wrong ways
I faced every burden that I had to face
And now I pray, I pray, I pray, I pray

I made every mistake, took all the wrong ways
I faced every burden that I had to face
And now I pray, I pray, I pray, I pray

Help me Lord, show me the way
Prepare me for another day
Help me Lord, keep me safe
To you I sing, to you I pray
Help me Lord, I know you know
I can't do this on my own
It's been too long I've been alone
I need to find my way back home

Help me Lord, show me the way
Prepare me for another day
Help me Lord, keep me safe
To you I sing, to you I pray
Help me Lord, I know you know
I can't do this on my own
It's been too long I've been alone
I need to find my way back home

Help me Lord, show me the way
Prepare me for another day
Help me Lord, keep me safe

To you I sing, to you I pray
Help me Lord, I know you know
I can't do this on my own
It's been too long I've been alone
I need to find my way back home

Help me Lord, show me the way
Prepare me for another day
Help me Lord, keep me safe
To you I sing, to you I pray
Help me Lord, I know you know
I can't do this on my own
It's been too long I've been alone
I need to find my way back home

I made every mistake, took all the wrong ways
I faced every burden that I had to face
And now I pray, I pray, I pray, I pray

I made every mistake, took all the wrong ways
I faced every burden that I had to face
And now I pray, I pray, I pray, I pray
