

Everybody Lies A Little

B.B. King

Everybody lies a little sometimes
Everybody lies a little sometimes

Some people lie about this, that, and the other
Other peoples lie about one another
Everybody lies a little sometimes
Everybody lies sometimes
Everybody lies sometimes

Some people never see their lies as lies
They just see the truth, the truth in disguise
Everybody lies a little sometimes
Everybody lies a little sometimes
Everybody lies a little sometimes

I've been told that lyin' is wrong
All right with me if it saves your life or your home

Everybody lies a little sometimes

Everybody lies a little
Your old lady, she lies a little
Your old man, he lies a little
Your sister, she lies a little
Your brother, he lies a little
Even your preacher, he lies a little
Your deacon, he lies a little
Your lawyer, he lies a little
Your doctor, he lies a little
Politicians, lie a little
Your children, they lie a little
Even I lie a little
Lucille lies a little

There you go..talking about it again...
