

The Shining

Badly Drawn Boy

Faith pours from your walls, drowning your calls I've tried to hear, you're not near Remembering when I saw your face
Shining my way, pure timing
Now I've fallen in deep, slow silent sleep it's killing me, I'm dying

To put a bit of sunshine in your life

Soliel all over you, warm sun pours over me
Soliel all over you
Warm sun

Now this slick fallen rift came like a gift your body moves ever nearer
And you will dry this tear
Now that we're here, and greave for me, not history
But now I'm dry of thoughts, wait for the rain
Then its replaced, sun setting

And suddenly we're in love with everything

Soliel all over you, warm sun pours over me
Soliel all over you
Warm sun
