Our Swords

Band of Horses

Out on the wall sounds of banging is constant coming from your head

And desperate the calls came and ringing from those wanna wring your neck

Wring your neck

Open your mouth sounds of breathing found it spilling from your face

Best to be dim to the humble of traffic stepping on your name

Count on us all falling our own swords tonight

And chilling walk home down the portions roads there leading st raight to your place

And look like the tin can with swallows the kitchen plugging up your space

Count on us all stepping on our own toes tonight Count on us all stepping on our own toes Count on us all follow our own swords tonight
