

Once More, For The Dollhouse

Basia Bulat

Once more, for the dollhouse
Will we ever paint the walls
Once more, for the mountains
May we find them at our door

Your dreams are so quiet
Don't you need them anymore
Someday we'll be lions
And we'll sing out to them all

One day when I'm older
Will I find out where you've gone
We swore to no strangers
Now they've crowded up our hearts

So long to the wreckage
I won't hide it if it's wrong
Someday we'll be lions
We'll be dancing as before

Your dreams are so quiet
Don't you need me anymore
Someday we'll be lions
We'll be singing to them all
