

Armageddon

Battle Beast

Reach for the stars with the heart that you've
Torn apart, patch it up and arise
You're the Goddess of the Light
Blazing high, satisfied, riding through the skies
This is your Armageddon

Yeah, yeah, yeah

A sacrifice
A reason for your endless pain
You're crucified
And nothing really matters
So powerful, it's over in a flash of light
You're craving for more

You've rattled up
Everything is so unclear
Obsessive patterns, the world keeps on spinning
Reality, the voices scream inside your head

I see the truth in your eyes, through the lies
Don't you hide it behind a disguise and a fake smile
You're mesmerised by the sights and the lights
In the darkest of night, despite your own destruction

Reach for the stars with the heart that you've
Torn apart, patch it up and arise
You're the Goddess of the Light
Blazing high, satisfied, riding through the skies
This is your Armageddon

When years go by, you're standing in your castle high
All those dreams, feeling so surreal
You're so alone, with no one standing by your side
Welcome to the nightmare!

You beg for help, you scream, you shout, you're all alone
No one wants to be even near you
It's time to fall, deep down to the darkest void
Are you ready to die?

I see the truth in your eyes, through the lies
Don't you hide it behind a disguise and a fake smile
You're mesmerised by the sights and the lights
In the darkest of night, despite your own destruction

Reach for the stars with the heart that you've
Torn apart, patch it up and arise
You're the Goddess of the Light
Blazing high, satisfied, riding through the skies
This is your Armageddon

I see the truth in your eyes, through the lies
Don't you hide it behind a disguise and a fake smile
You're mesmerised by the sights and the lights
In the darkest of night, despite your own destruction

Reach for the stars with the heart that you've
Torn apart, patch it up and arise
You're the Goddess of the Light
Blazing high, satisfied, riding through the skies
This is your Armageddon
