Unbroken

Battle Beast

It was a sunny afternoon Her name was on the cake Lots of balloons But nobody came

She said, "Mum, don't you worry, everything's alright" Through her tears everything looks blurry She's broken inside

As the sun is falling
It echoes in her head
Distant voices laughing
All the things they've said

How to call for help When nobody hears How to hide inside her shell Blinded by tears

She keeps on praying:
"Just let me be!"
She keeps on hiding
But no friend seeks

Your weeping heart Is growing stronger A soul full of dreams Remains unbroken

You're not alone You're not alone

It hurts deep within
In the silence in screams
It crawls on her skin
And haunts in her dreams

Their smiles were always fake Her tears were always real Though the heart now breaks In the end the wound will heal

She keeps on asking: "Why me?"
She keeps on hiding
But no friend seeks

Your weeping heart Is growing stronger A soul full of dreams Remains unbroken

You're not alone You're not alone I've been there too

Beast of my past
You've sealed your fate
I'm free at last
Won't waste my hate
I don't forgive you
I won't pretend
I will forget you
Don't call me a friend

Let someone know You're not alone

I promise you
I've been there too
