

Low Life (Ode to the Underworld)

Being As An Ocean

It's hard taking a look at yourself
When you're trying to be somebody else
You can't know what you want in life
When it's based on a lie that you sell
I'm tired of spending my time
In a place that I don't fit in I'll turn away from who I've been
And start remembering who I am

Take a hit, but you don't back down
Thank God for the low life
Nowhere to fall when you're on the ground
Thank God for the low life
(Low life)

Take a hit, but you don't back down
Thank God for the low life
Nowhere to fall when you're on the ground
Thank God for the low life
(Low life)

Thank God for the low life
Thank God for the low life

Stop all the lying to yourself
Just to find an identity
Empty yourself, open your mind
And find humility
You're going to wind up dead inside
Despite your best intent
Clear away the doubt from your life
Before your time on this earth is spent

Take a hit, but you don't back down
Thank God for the low life
Nowhere to fall when you're on the ground
Thank God for the low life
(Low life)

Take a hit, but you don't back down
Thank God for the low life
Nowhere to fall when you're on the ground
Thank God for the low life
(Low life)

Thank God for the low life
Thank God for the low life

(Low life)
Take a hit, but you don't back down
Thank God for the low life
Nowhere to fall when you're on the ground
Thank God for the low life
(Low life)

Thank God for the low life
Thank God for the low life
