

I Love You (more And More)

Bellamy Brothers

I love you like the skies loves blue
And I need you, girl, you know I do
And I want you, how could you ignore
That I love you more and more and more?

I can tell by the look in your eyes you don't love me no more
You don't talk anymore, you don't laugh like we did before
Baby, please don't you leave this way, this is what I have to say
Let us take a chance now if it's just another day.

I love you like the skies loves blue
And I need you, girl, you know I do
And I want you how can you ignore
That I love you more and more and more?

Now that you closed your heart I can see
There's so much you can learn
Please don't leave me alone in the night when I got the blues
Baby, please let me change your mind, memories are hard to find
Let us keep the sunshine, let us leave those tears behind.

'Cause I love you like the skies loves blue
And I need you, girl, you know I do
And I want you how can you ignore
That I love you more and more and more?

I did wrong but I still can't believe broken feelings won't heal
And I learned by the ache in my heart love's no hand shake deal
Now, I know that is all I've got, you say, "maybe", I say, "but"
Baby, we had trouble but instead we'll say, "so what".

I love you like the skies loves blue
And I need you, girl, you know I do
And I want you how can you ignore
That I love you more and more and more?

Yes, I love you more and more and more...
