

Just Breathe

Benjamin Francis Leftwich

Stay, I could be your hiding place
Together we'll weather the storm
If you stay, I could be a fall from grace
When the heavens, say we'll never belong

Any time you're losing touch
Just breathe, I'll catch you on the way down
We can turn around, the weight of the sky on top of us
Just breathe, I won't let you fade out
We can turn around, the weight of the sky on top of us
Just breathe

Stay, tell me that it's not too late
To recover, to get over life before
Nothing's changed, every time your body breaks
I'll come running, so you never have to fall

Any time you're losing touch
Just breathe, I'll catch you on the way down
We can turn around, the weight of the sky on top of us
Just breathe, I won't let you fade out
We can turn around, the weight of the sky on top of us
Just breathe, just breathe, just breathe

Just breathe, I'll catch you on the way down
We can turn around, the weight of the sky on top of us
Just breathe, I won't let you fade out
We can turn around, the weight of the sky on top of us
Just breathe
