

Do You Love Me Like You Used To

Best Coast

I wake up to the morning sun
When did my life stop being so fun?
Wish I could care about someone
The way I used to, when will this be done?

I'm always crying on the phone
Because I know that I'll end up alone
Oh please, forgive me for my sins
I didn't mean it, I just want it to end

Do you love me like you used to?
Do you? Do you? Do you?

I have no reason to complain
My feelings change, they melt away in my brain
I keep myself awake at night
Sleep with the lights on, always ready to fight

I'm always crying on the phone
Because I know that I'll end up alone
But please, forgive me for my sins
I didn't mean it, I just want it to end

I'm always running down this street
I don't remember what it means to be me
I left all of that shit behind
But still I seem to lose my mind

My mind, my mind, my mind
