

Within My Madness

Beto Vázquez Infinity

I saw reflected on the wall spirits of evil spectrum's coming out of dying fire like demons. out of me and my mind, tortured angel of life moved by unreachd desire, out of me!!

Like diving in the world's heart lost in my madness embraced by it's winter arms that leads my life in dreams.

Over the dawn, where the blue crystal shines, it shines reflecting on the darkest waters of oblivion.
rope of my heart imprisoned and undead undead and holding like air pendulum in sorrow

My tormented spirit fights my heart is brighter than the stars and with vengeance I hold high my honour and my truth

My mind can now escape from thoughts oppressed by the dark ways of daily living Our faith faints and I see it at the end of the road My insanity protects me from that world that harms my own kind and myself

Live and fight on my madness Live and fight on my dreams

Spirit of light coming from the sky take my life!!

Madness is where I spy the world as it tries to hide Madness, my sword and shield you could stay out there or follow me.....!!!!!!
