

Reflections, tell me who you really see
It's not perfection
But who are they to tell you what that means?
Don't fool yourself
Life without a filter
They're nothing more than what you have inside
Sitting on your highest horse
Clouded eyes and narrow minds

Searching, look inside yourself somehow
Imagine, imagine that you're good enough now
Imagine! Imagine!
Imagine feeling bold
Imagine loving yourself
Imagine confidence deep within your soul

Focus!
It's time to close your eyes
Look behind the lies and focus
Reflections, tell me who you really see
It's not perfection
But who are they to tell you what that means?

Searching, look inside yourself somehow
Imagine, imagine that you're good enough now
Searching, look inside yourself somehow
Imagine, imagine that you're good enough now
Imagine
Imagine, imagine now
Imagine, imagine now

Life without a filter
They're nothing more than what you have inside
Sitting on their highest horse
Clouded eyes and narrow minds
Why look to fiction to compare yourself
Stop and think, is your heart still beating?
If you just stopped and took a second glance,
You'd see their selfish bones, so stop competing!
Imagine, compassion, imagine
