

All This Woman

Betty Who

I think I need attention
I think I need your touch
Don't have to say a word cause you know what I'm thinking of Fall into these waves
Wake up in this haze
Know you feel this connection
I taste it on your lips
My body's calling as you trace it with your fingertips
Crash until we break
I'll take your breath away

Maybe it's wrong
But it feels so right
I start to melt when you put me on ice

Hope you're ready for
All this woman
All this woman
Boy you mad if you got all this woman
And don't want every inch of all this woman
All this woman
All this woman
Boy you mad if you got all this woman
And don't want every inch of all this woman

Do you like going crazy
Just come and take my hand
Climb down the rabbit hole I'll welcome you to wonderland yeah
Hundred thousand ways
I could make your day

Maybe it's wrong
But it feels so right
I start to melt when you put me on ice

Hope you're ready for
All this woman
All this woman
Boy you mad if you got all this woman
And don't want every inch of all this woman
All this woman
All this woman
Boy you mad if you got all this woman
And don't want every inch of all this woman

Women are a drug
A mystery
So heavenly
You'll never come to understand them
Something about the way you're wanting me
Stay for the night you'll never be the same
