Bic Runga

Listen, this stands to reason,
Sure are the season, you know you and I can't be wrong.
When you walk into the room like a song,
This can't be wrong.

Tender, long as the leavin',
I promise you this evening, and it's moving me along.
But a day away from you is too long.
Much much too long.
Much much too long.

And I guess I'll say it plain,
We're one and the same, oh yeah.
In the face of all that's changed, we'll stay the same oh yeah.

Last time, I was mistaken,
My faith was shaken and my hope was never strong.
But the fear inside is already gone.
It's already gone.
It's already gone.

And I guess I'll say it plain,
We're one and the same, oh yeah.
In the face of all that's changed, we'll stay the same, oh yeah

And I guess I'll say it straight,
We're one and the same, oh yeah.
In the face of things that change, we'll stay the same oh yeah.
