Sista Jane

Black Country Communion

Do you feel You've been to war? You say you like it But you could not leave Got a multiple ovation You burn the light And you do receive I'll be gone 2morrow Sometimes I gotta' Go away Maybe the line is wider baby Gonna' take that fast train You have tried To go the distance But you just can't get No release You will fade to black Your mind will crack It's all you're livin' for And I am breakin' please Sweet Sista Jane Sure like the Pain You will remain Sweet Sista Jane You get your faith And your therapy But your mind's spun A lie in your head And you're full Of contradiction You never heard A word that I said I can stay until the mornin' You know the hour Is late Now you're walkin' on a wire Don't it make your big day You have tried To go the distance But you just can't get No release You will fade to black Waitin' for the world to crack It's all you're livin' for And I am breakin' please Sweet Sista Jane Sure like the Pain You will remain Sweet Sista Jane

(You've got your faith and your therapy) (Your mind's spun a lie in your head) You have tried To go the distance But you just can't get No release You will fade to black Your mind will crack It's all you're livin' for And I am breakin' please

Sweet Sista Jane Sure like the Pain You will remain Sweet Sista Jane

Sweet Sista Jane Sure like the Pain You will remain Sweet Sista Jane