In Memory...

Black Sabbath

No one told me the way I should feel You left an aching heart Lost and lonely, the feeling goes on You were the one friend I had You gave me so much love Now the tears remind me you're gone

It still haunts me there's a silence Where you used to be
It still haunts me
Just an empty space in history
It still haunts me
But life must go on, on and on

It's still haunting me
It's still haunting me
Haunting me
Haunting me
