

Runaway

Blake Lewis

The moment our eyes met, the feeling was heavy.
I knew that I'd love you, but I wasn't ready.
Somehow today, I still feel the same way.

You make me so happy whenever I'm near you
We can't grow when I never know, where you disappear too
You want me to wait? Is that the thrill of the chase?
But I know that...

She's leaving like the time before
And I know she's coming back
The same story, her eyes move straight to the door
It's time to run again

She's my runaway... Yeah...
She might be here tomorrow, but she's gone today
My lil runaway... Yeah...
She doesn't know, I should let her go
But I'm in to deep, moving through the streets
Looking for my runaway.

We've done this so many times for different reasons.
then back to I love you's for less than a season
my heart finds a way, to make the same mistakes

I need you to come back or stay gone if you're leaving.
I want you to want me, But it ain't what I'm feeling
I'm not gonna wait for you to throw this/me away

She's leaving like the time before
And I know she's coming back
The same story, her eyes move straight to the door
It's time to run again

She's my runaway... Yeah...
She might be here tomorrow, but she's gone today
My lil runaway... Yeah
She doesn't know, I should let her go
But I'm in to deep, moving through the streets
Looking for my runaway.

She's my runaway... Yeah...
She might be here tomorrow, but she's gone today
My lil runaway... Yeah
She doesn't know, I should let her go
But I'm in to deep, moving through the streets
Looking for my runaway.
