

Chasing Dials

Blanco White

The hours can't help but run
I've counted one too many suns
With a hardened stare
The sea is rising under the ground
And the missing time is lost
Forgotten in the crowd

Chasing dials, it ain't ever enough
No no no it ain't ever enough
Chasing dials, it ain't ever enough
No no no it ain't ever enough

I listened too far behind
Lay covered up one too many times
Still we're halfway there
From the re-alignment, thunder and cloud
From us realising it stops
And we won't know when or how

Chasing dials, it ain't ever enough
No no no it ain't ever enough
Chasing dials, it ain't ever enough
No no no it ain't ever enough

One life, smothering the whispers and sounds
Waiting as the hand comes back around
So seek while you can and run it down
Or the time is lost, forgotten in the crowd
Or the missing time will be lost
And like me you won't know how

Chasing dials, it ain't ever enough
No no no it ain't ever enough
Chasing dials, it ain't ever enough
No no no it ain't ever enough
