

A Depth That No One Dares

Bleed from Within

Gasping for air
Beyond my control
I have witnessed the cost
Of the curse we dragged below

A mask to disguise the face inside
And silence a restless mind
I'm fighting a war that no one can see
But I will not accept defeat

Gravity
Weighs so heavy I am shattering
But the pieces are a part of me
Set me free
Pushing down, this burden we bear
A depth that no one dares

The eyes still reflect
The pain that we hide
But the exits are never there
Now the curse starts to breed inside

When your thoughts become so richly dark
The wreckage will leave its mark
Still fighting a war that no one can win
But we cannot let it in

All the light we cannot see, it lies within

Gravity
Weighs so heavy I am shattering
But the pieces are a part of me
Set me free
Pushing down, this burden we bear
A depth that no one dares

To fall is to find your way
We don't stand a chance
If we cannot see a reason to live, a reason to believe
I will not let this consume me

I draw my eyes to the fire
Digging into flesh to find what lies within
All the light we cannot see
We cannot let it in, we will not let it win
Rip off the layers and rebuild
I will not fail to offer something that is real
Let it in

Push down this burden you bear
Over and over again
I finally embrace the hands of death
A depth that no one dares to descend
Let it in