

Ruina

Bleed from Within

(Here in this house we've built from stone
Only ash remains of our hollow home)

Ignorance is bliss
Till we're on our knees
Begging for this to end

We fall by the hand of our own mistakes
Your gods will bow their heads in shame
Digging deep in our veins to escape this place
Your gods will bow their heads in shame

Torn down from the walls
To reveal the cracks
We became our only enemy
The numbers fall so the deaths will rise
Our countries leaders will be walking with their heads held high
These cowards have deceived us
Confined to the borders
Like rats in cages we sign up

We fall by the hand of our own mistakes
Your gods will bow their heads in shame
Digging deep in our veins to escape this place
Your gods will bow their heads in shame

In the end, we're obsolete

Your gods will bow their heads in shame
Like rats in cages we sign up
