Since The Beginning

Blind Witness

Wish i never woke up On this day i saw my whole life breaking into pieces The morning light just came out As the shadow 's falling on me Falling on me

This phone call, this apocalypse This voice was murdered Like an earthquake These words shattered on me My body's shaking this disaster These words shattered on me My body is shaking this disaster

My pain separated me from The rest of the world

She fought to survive, survive for us She was so innnocent How could you do this This cant be real How could you do this

I've would have killed just to be by your side Before he killed you

I wish i never woke up....
