Blonde Redhead

Nothing, I thought nothing of you Just another young man Running up the mountain There are many like you

Mistaken, it's not meant to be this It's not meant to be love Crossing path and that is all And that was all

Turning me
And handle me
Come through me
And close to me

Turning me
And handle me
Come through me
And close to me

I wish we had one long night Stain each other We won't see one another Will you always remember ?

Turning me
And handle me
Come through me
And close to me

Turning me
And handle me
Come through me
And close to me
