

Saved By the Grace Of Your Love

Blood, Sweat & Tears

I've been saved by the grace of your love
Hallelujah to the power above.
I've been raised by the grace of your love
Oh, praise ye to the power of love.

(Oh, praise ye to the power of love.)

I've been saved by the grace of your love
Hallelujah to the power above.
I've been raised by the grace of your love
Oh, praise ye to the power of love.

Don't need no witness on the witness stand
Don't need no sister, make no gamblin' man
I got something beats a bird in the hand
It's your lovin' that brings me luck.

Don't need no singer with no sad, sad song (no, no, no)
Don't want to hear him get the words all wrong
I got something build my life upon
And let me tell you that's enough.

I've been saved by the grace of your love
Hallelujah to the power above.
I've been raised by the grace of your love
Oh, praise ye to the power of love.

I used to live so bad
It was the only life I knew
I gave a million excuses
The way the lonely people do.

One day I came to my senses
I knew what I was headed to
I made up my mind, changed my habits in time
And yes, I owe that change to you.

Hallelujah, Hallelujah

I've been saved by the grace of your love
Hallelujah to the power above.
(Hallelujah, you've been raised, yes, you have)
I've been raised by the grace of your love
(You've been raised)
Oh, praise ye to the power of love.
(Hallelujah, you've been saved, yes, you have)

Hallelujah
(You've been saved)
I've been raised, I've been lifted to
(Hallelujah, you've been raised)
Hurray, yes, I have

I've been raised
(You've been raised)
I've been saved, I've been lifted to
