

Killing Time

Bloodsimple

Weapons engaged
The satellites have their position the threat is imminent we have proof and probable cause strike and we shall be victorious

Let the killing begin here's where the killing begins your orders are clear to search and destroy leave nothing alive women and children are collateral damage in keeping them nothing can be gained to destroy them is no loss at all

let the killing begin
no there aint no hope there is no feeling left in this heart of stone and so it goes, set to explode we are the killing machine set to unload we now reserce the right to envade your homes and seize your properties, and search your persons at will meanwhile your ports are a gaping hole the casualties will be enormous now that you're surrounded and cut off from all support the nemesis rises as the targets acquired and you look upon the sky and pray to the gods above
