Hook

Blues Traveler

```
A           E              F#m  C#
It doesn't matter what I say
D           A             D   E
So long as I sing with inflection
A                 E                   F#m  C#
That makes you feel that I'll convey
D           A             D   E
Some inner truth of vast reflection
A                 E            F#m C#
But I've said nothing so far
D               A        D           E
And I can keep it up as long as it takes
A                 E              F#m C#
And it don't matter who you are
If I'm doing my job then it's your resolve that breaks

                A       E            F#m C#
Because the hook brings you back
D           A             D   E
I ain't tellin' you no lie
      A     E            F#m C#
The hook brings you back
On that you can rely
