

Everything You Love

Bob Schneider

it was a beautiful day
the sky was blue
when you said i did
you said you did too

we were not alone
this much is true
on that day i did

but god will destroy
everything you love
if you live long enough

and the game was on and our team was winning and we watched the television while the world kept spinning around the sun

out into the blue
as i sat there beside you

god will destroy
everything you love

i had a dream
about the world and i
i couldn't shake it
no matter how hard i tried

i hold my son's hand
his hand in mine
in that moment everything was fine

everything you love

god will destroy
everything you love

god will destroy
everything you love

everything you love
