

Fragile Happiness

Bodyjar

Here today and on my way
It's time to make it all OK
You left me here I couldn't see
Solutions were in front of me

With this fragile happiness
I'll start over today
I won't leave you here to suffer
It's not for everyone I'd rather suffer for
Now that I have blown that cover
I have been suffering, if you're not suffering
Suffering instead

Pain and observation meet
Reality's an easy street
Alone is not so hard to be
She's gone
Just gone away from me

With this fragile happiness
I'll start over today
I won't leave you here to suffer
It's not for everyone I'd rather suffer for
Now that I have blown that cover
I have been suffering, if you're not suffering

With this fragile happiness
I'll start over today
There's no reason why you can't be happy with the things you have
There's no reason why you need me now
Just have to learn to be alone
