

After I Made Love To You

Bonnie 'Prince' Billy

Eloquent, I soon retire
To nothing else I may aspire
After I've made love to you

In the dark I see you glisten
To your breath I lay and listen
After I've made love to you

In your arms I'm softly resting
Memories of you undressing
And your lips my final blessing
I never knew
The embrace that I'd been lacking
Has been found with kisses smacking
And two bodies there attacking
I and you

Baby why don't we feel guilty
Why's it seem we're doing right
When we're doing something filthy
In a rented room tonight

I think it's 'cause we love the now
We love forever love, and how
And my life's your love, anyway
And your life's my love, everyday

You are mine o now forever
Think of you always wherever
After I've made love to you
After I've made love to you
