

Desire

Bosson

You are the answer to my fallacy
You are the answer to my fallacy

We live and we die
And we try find the reason why
But we lose ourselves in our search for answers
I laughed and I cried
And I made it through and touched the sky
Just to see life is here and you are the answer

You are my desire, a desire, you're all I need
You are my desire, a desire, you're all I need
You are my desire, a desire, you're all I need
You are my desire, a desire, you're all I need

We live and we lie
When we think that we are ready to fly
We forget who we are in our search for answers
I laughed and I cried
And I made it through and touched the sky
Just to see life is here and you are the answer

You are my desire, a desire, you're all I need
You are my desire, a desire, you're all I need
You are my desire, a desire, you're all I need
You are my desire, a desire, you're all I need

You are the answer to my fallacy
You are the answer to my fallacy

You are my desire, a desire, you're all I need
You are my desire, a desire, you're all I need
You are my desire, a desire, you're all I need
You are my desire, a desire, you're all I need
You are my desire
