

Plasticine Dreams

Boston Manor

Hey you
You're a star
You're the one
Thought I had a point to make
But I don't remember
Hey you
You're a star
You're the one
Thought I had a point to make
But I don't remember

Plasticine dreams, cigarettes and beauty queens
Goodbye to your privacy
I don't think you need it
Not where you've been
I kinda like the way you're talking to me right now

Hey you
You're a star
You're the one
Thought I had a point to make
But I don't remember

I crashed my car at the end of the boulevard
I wasn't even driving far
I just thought I'd like it and I guess that I did
I kinda like the way you're talking to me right now
If I could understand the words you say somehow

Hey you
You're a star
You're the one
Thought I had a point to make
But I don't remember

Fake plastic trees
Everything is what it seems
Forget about the things you've seen
Everything is perfect, yeah
You got all that you need
I kinda like the way you're talking to me right now

Hey you
You're a star
You're the one
Thought I had a point to make
But I don't remember
Hey you
You're a star
You're the one
Thought I had a point to make
But I don't remember
