

Beach

Boy & Bear

Take my eyes, my melody
For I choose not to say

Mix my blood with honey
For the taste so sweet

I felt it moving through my skin
This feeling wrapped around my sin

I'm shedding off my innocence
It plays upon my sanity
This feeling, it's taking over me

One with my head, my soul, my memory
My loving home, my family

As I'm shedding off my innocence
For the lizard I choose to be
To be young my friend is a curse none the less
And a curse I choose to leave

I felt it moving through my skin
This feeling wrapped around my sin

One with my head, my soul, my memory
My loving home, my family

I know they'll come for me
If I need

For I see the love in you
It feeds me

And you, you fell upon my plate
And you make the same mistakes

My head, my soul, my memory
My loving home, my family

They'll come for me
If I need

For I see the love in you
It feeds me
