

Given Up

Boyce Avenue

You've given up
Given up
Given up on love

I see your love in black and white
Cause it's right and it's wrong
But a memory plays in colorful flashes of light
Now it's all that I have to hold on to

I know your past is calling
But I don't want to believe my time was all in vain
I know your heart stopped falling
But I don't wanna admit that I just failed again
But some things will never change

You've given up
Given up
Given up on love
But I still feel the same
You've given up
Given up
Given up on love
But I still feel the same

Some nights I'll just lie in bed, thinking of you
And I can see you smile
But most days I have to hold back what I know is true
That I was only meant to have you for a while

I pray you found your calling
And I hope you feel that it was worth the pain
Cause I still feel you falling
And in my dreams you've never had better days
But then I hear you say

You've given up
Given up
Given up on love
But I still feel the same
You've given up
Given up
Given up on love
But I still feel the same

And to this day you make me sing
And I still see that diamond ring
You'd be the mother of my child
Can I hold you for a while
Just wanna hold you for a while

You've given up
Given up
Given up on love
You've given up
Given up
Given up on love

But I still feel the same

I know you pass this feeling
But there's nothing else I'm needing
But our past in my heart
And it's slipping away

You've given up
Given up
Given up on love
You've given up
Given up
Given up on love
