

Learn to Love Again

Boyzone

I don't want us to be strangers
Again
Wasn't asking for a saviour
Just a friend

But as time goes by
I find it hard to let you go
I know you're not mine, but
I still need to let you know

If you need time, I can make time for us
I can come by, maybe it's time, no rush
We can pick up where we left off
And if we fall we get back up
So we can both learn to love again
Love again
So we can both learn to love again
So we can both learn to love again

I don't want us to making
Same mistakes
We just know it's complicating
Simple things, yeah

But as time goes by
I find it hard to fight for you
So before I'm tired
I just need a sign from you, ooh

If you need time, I can make time for us
I can come by, maybe it's time, no rush
We can pick up where we left off
And if we fall we get back up
So we can both learn to love again
Love again
So we can both learn to love again
So we can both learn to love again

I know, I know
I need more patience, patience
Why don't, why don't
You see me breaking, I'm shaking now
You know, you know
That I've been waiting, waiting for you, ooh

If you need time, I can make time for us
I can come by, maybe it's time, no rush
I can pick up where we left off
And if we fall we get back up
So we can both learn to love again!...
So we can both learn to love again
So we can both learn to love again
