

I Think I Started A Trend

Brad Sucks

Washed up on the shoreline getting sand in my face.
I took it hard and now I'm spending my days,
Drunk lying around in total comfort and sin,
And if you believe me I can do it again.

Sold out all my friends and then I took it easy.
Everybody said they never would believe me.
I paid no attention to the very end.
Oh yeah I think I started a trend.

Dead clothes horses running crazy out of the gates,
Player haters in the meadow learning how to create,
Big belly well he said he was a man from LA,
He seemed okay and so I signed it away.

Sold out all my friends and then I took it easy.
Everybody said they never would believe me.
I paid no attention to the very end.
Oh yeah I think I started a trend.

Sold out all my friends and then I took it easy.
Everybody said they never would believe me.
I paid no attention to the very end.
Oh yeah I think I started a trend.
