

The Future Is Bright

Brandon Heath

I'm not the only one who sees it
Watch the news, get the blues
Wonder what happens next
I'm not the only one who feels it
The fear inside, the urge to hide
Closer with every breath

We keep falling, falling
Meanwhile our destiny keeps calling, calling
I hear it now

People lift up your head
No this is not the end
We know what's coming and
The future is bright
Hold to His promises
Every word He said
Jesus is coming and the future is bright

The future, can't take that away
The future, can't take that away
We know what's coming and the future is bright
The future, can't take that away
The future, can't take that away
Jesus is coming and the future is bright

Hold to the hope that won't be shaken
And don't lose heart when it gets dark
Faith to give you back your sight
This world is not a destination (oh oh oh)
It won't last, it will pass
Everything will turn out right

We might be falling, falling
Meanwhile our destiny keeps calling, calling
Sing with me now

People lift up your head
No this is not the end
We know what's coming and

The future is bright (future is bright)
Hold to His promises
Every word He said
Jesus is coming and the future is bright

The future, can't take that away
The future, can't take that away
We know what's coming and the future is bright (future is bright)
The future, can't take that away
The future, can't take that away
Jesus is coming and the future is bright

The darker it gets, the brighter the light
I haven't seen it yet
But faith is my sight
The darker it gets, the brighter the light

I haven't seen it yet
But faith is my sight
Faith is my sight
Faith is my sight

People lift up your head
No this is not the end
We know what's coming and
The future is bright
(Future is bright)
Hold to His promises
Every word He said
Jesus is coming and the future is bright

The future, can't take that away (that away)
The future, can't take that away
We know what's coming and the future is bright (can't take that away)
The future, can't take that away
The future, can't take that away
Jesus is coming and the future is bright
