

Crossed Fingers

Breakdown of Sanity living day by day with remorse but I try to push it to the back of my mind my hands are shaking, I can't resist no more, I can't fight back brick by brick, step by step, stick by stick look at me, what have I become? from time to time I feel like everything in me is dead do you know what it's like to sleep forever endless thoughts, blinded by drugs, numb the pain, it never stops

I say it's the last time and cross my fingers behind my back for myself no regrets for a long time and all my habits will come back lift my glass to the end of the past back to the start because time runs too fast forcing myself to breathe I see myself but it's not really me my enemy is me lie to myself, hope everyday again that I lose my selfproduced pain

I try to leave this cage inside and refuse to listen to the voice in my head got to lose my craving (for more)

I need to get out of this forever bound, forever in chains

I have to live forever with this shadow on my face it was never gone and I guess it will never go away

I can't decide which way to take to find my bliss there's no light I can follow, no god I can believe in please help me out of this

I take my last hit before I get sick

please help me out of this

tear me down and let me drown tomorrow (I promise) I'll break up but only tomorrow

I don't want to chase the dark clouds anymore break free

I try to escape from this cage and turn the next page

I walked these cold streets all by myself, so the last steps I'll cope under my own steam no dreams at night only daydreams

I tried to hide it from the ones I love but I can't pretend anymore, I can't hide anymore
