

Falling

Brendan James

I still remember
Those early days
Love was simple when it found us
Along the way
You'd come to Brooklyn
It eased my mind
We'd walk the streets until I feed her
No track of time

Look up from the pavement
And over the sky
How many years have gone by?

I'm still running, running for two
I'm still hustling like I always do
I'm still falling, falling for you
Yes, this love is true

Falling for you
Falling for you
Falling for you

The storms we've weathered
The screams and fights
The sound of children in our home now
The peaceful nights
I pull you closer
You fear the same
Our bodies aging but our hearts, no
It is the way

Look up from the bedroom
Where four of us lie
How many years have gone by?

I'm still running, running for two
I'm still hustling like I always do
I'm still falling, falling for you
Yes, this love is true

Falling for you
Falling for you
Falling for you

Falling for you

Falling for you
For you
Falling for you

I'm still running, running for two
Hustling like I always do
I'm still falling, falling for you
Yes, this love is true

Falling for you
Falling for you

Falling for you
For you
For you
