

Tied To You

Brendan James

I'm the stars and you're a river of tears
Carving lines over your hardest years
I know you're tied to me
I know you're tied to me
Like a dark attaches to a light
Like a silence in the dead of night
I know you're tied to me
I know you're tied to me

A tear on your sweater
A cut on your hand
We feel it together
And we come back again

Hey, I won't be letting you down
No, I know better now
Yeah, I'll never stop pulling you through
I know you're tied to me
And I'm tied to you

I'm the stone you throw into the sand
Crashing down until I understand
I know you're tied to me
I know you're tied to me
Like the earth feels underneath your feet
Like a frost under the fallen leaves
I know you're tied to me
I know you're tied to me

A tear on your sweater
A cut on your hand
We feel it together
And we come back again

Hey, I won't be letting you down
No, I know better now
Yeah, I'll never stop pulling you through
I know you're tied to me
And I'm tied to you

So much behind us
So much ahead
We are old souls
Riding side by side again
Till the end

Hey, I won't let you down
No, I know better now
Hey, I won't be letting you down
No, I know better now
