

We Can Be Anyone

Brett Anderson

Evening arrives with its scandals and lies and its breeding grounds and the lights on your face show up all the mistakes so I dim them down

You are electric tonight, you are connected tonight
you can be anyone you feel the tension inside as I turn out the lights
you can be anyone

Evening is here with its scandals and fears and its shadow play and the lights on your arms show the scratches and scars so I turn away

You are electric tonight, you are connected tonight
you can be anyone
'cause if I turn out the lights, if I screw up my eyes you could be anyone

And as this tensioning night and with this feeling inside
we can be anyone
'cause if I turn out the lights if I screw up my eyes, you could be anyone

Evening arrives with its scandals and lies
and its shadow play
and the lights on your face show up all the mistakes
so I turn away
