

Mutilated and Assimilated

Broken Hope

Who goes there?
An alien horror beyond imagination.
It's been a million things on a million planets,
Now it to wants to be us.
The clever thing mimics and stays concealed,
Man is the warmest place to hide.

Whatever's in there is weird and pissed off
Take samples of blood to draw out the thing
I will eat your screams and mimic them as well

What is this?
An organism imitates other life-forms.
The xenophobe cells reshape to imitate our own,
Now it absorbs and digests us.

Whatever's in there is weird and pissed off,
Take samples of blood to draw out The Thing,
It's only meat and tissue when a man bleeds,
I will eat your screams and mimic them as well.

Entered – countless alien tentacles plunge and rape your body.
Immolated – savagely torn limb from limb into bloody pieces.
Gorestructured – rebuilding your cells, meat, bones, and mind.
Mutilated and Assimilated – from a bloodbath you're reborn.

Whatever's in there is weird and pissed off,
Take samples of blood to draw out The Thing,
It's only meat and tissue when a man bleeds,
I will eat your screams and mimic them as well.

Who can you trust?
Even burnt remains host alien activity.
Paranoia and terror grip your very soul.
The thing may freeze and burn.
But it will never die.
